The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kubickova et al and Preininger et al.

Kubickova et al teach the different components of cheese flavor and the relative amounts of each component (see entire document, especially the Tables).

Preininger et al teach the different components of cheese flavor and the relative amounts of each component (see entire document, especially the Tables).

It is noted that the relative volume/area values taught by the prior art are equivalent to the claimed amounts of each component.

All of the claim limitations have been considered. None of them are seen as serving as basis for patentability.

No claim is allowed.
